

Seminar on “Advanced Cumin Production Technologies” organized at CAZRI RRS Jaisalmer

ICAR-National Research Centre on Seed Spices, Ajmer in collaboration with CAZRI-RRS-Jaisalmer organized two-day district seminar on “Advanced Cumin Production Technologies” during 19-20 March, 2024 at Chandan Experimental area. Dr. Vinay Bhardwaj, Director- NRCSS inaugurated the program and gave welcome note. He appraised to the participant to give focus to the research problem of cumin for addressing the emerging problem.

The Head, Dr. R. S. Mehta elaborated about good agricultural practices of cumin to increase their productivity. Five scientists from CAZRI-RRS Jaisalmer, four Scientist from NRCSS-Ajmer and One Assistant Professor from LRS-Chandan were participated and delivered lecture for the better production and marketing of Cumin. Dr Sujan Chand Meena , Dr Anil Patidar, Dr Saryana, and Dr Dileep Dangi from CAZRI-RRS Jaisalmer and Dr.S.S. Meena and Dr M.D. Meena from NRCSS, Ajmer talked on various aspects of cumin production. During the seminar a demonstration on use of drone for spraying of fertilizer and pesticides was also organized for the participants of the seminar. A total of 100 participants comprising scientists and farmers attended the seminar and discussed and deliberated on various aspects of cumin production.